

Car Insurance Learner Driver

Written by Jim Bender

Tuesday, 17 January 2012 10:28

I have searched on Auto Trader for BMW Kent within their car dealer directory section. It is not easy to locate this area on this automotive classified site as they seem to focus purely on promoting used car adverts rather than helping the consumer locate their local garage. I did get a few results but I would have thought there were more dealers than this. The one that looks most professional is Big Motoring World in West Malling as they do not just sell used cars. They also have a dedicated service area and MOT bay so I can build a relationship with these guys and hopefully they will look after me.